Charley Egan Eight Rounds in Other Star Bout.

ARRANGE ONE PRELIM.

The final preparations are now being made for the coming fights to be held at the Maryland Athletic and Social Club at Ardmore, Md., on next Thursday, as Manager Jimmie LaFon-taine got together with some of the best of the local preliminary lighters yesterday and signed agreements for the opening battles.

The first bout to be booked by Man-ager LaFontaine was the semi-windup in which Charley Egan, the "Singing Pugilist," will meet Shanky Gardner, another local fighter. The local fistic fans may remember fardner, who made the old fight club famous through his wonderful fighting, and as Egan likewise needs no intro-and as Egan likewise needs no intro-duction to the fans, it speaks well for the merits of the program. The second preliminary signed by the promoter was Faul Day, a fast-coming hard-working fighter, against Eddie Lewis, and considering what both boys have shown on other occasions they need no touting, as their fighting speaks for itself. Following the policy of booking boys who have shown be-fore, and who have satisfied the fol-lowers, Manager LaFontaine is trying to book Patsy Donovan, the presen champion fly-weight fighter of th
